

ACOUSTIC SERIES (TC-417)

Noise Control - Small Seniors Centre

The small complex illustrated below was retrofitted as a Senior's Centre. The single large room, with a relatively high, sloping ceiling was converted into an activity room. However, when it went into use it was found to have very poor acoustics. Reverberation was particularly bad, and rendered the space virtually unusable for its intended purpose.

Our local distributor proposed installing TC-417 on the ceiling and part way down the walls to alleviate the problem. Subsequent investigation of the proposal by a local acoustic consultant resulted in acceptance. The resultant reduction in noise and reverberation within the space made the room most acceptable for its intended purpose.
